THE TRAIL •

Aubrey Bilger

DEDICATION

With pride, the yearbook staff dedicates the 1962 Trail to Aubrey Bilger, and at the same time, to all that he was—a molder of lives, a teacher of ideas, a humble and thought provoking influence to all who knew and worked with him. It is fitting that the Trail should be dedicated to him, not only because he had a hand in its production for 12 years, but also because he was so vitally a part of the school life it recorded.

At Salina High, Mr. Bilger was in charge of public relations, advisor to the yearbook and newspaper staffs, and journalism teacher. Under his guidance, many award winning yearbooks and newspapers were published. He was past president of Salina Teachers Association. Recently he received a Certificate of Merit from the University of Kansas for over 25 years of continuous service to teaching.

Mr. Bilger was born in 1901 at Hunter. He received his BS degree from Kansas State University and his MS from Colorado University. His tireless devotion to sharing his talents and to service to others has made him unforgettable in the minds of all who knew him.

FOREWORD

Wherever anything lives, there is open somewhere, a register in which time is being inscribed.

What is time—the shadow on the dial, the striking of the clock, the running of the sand, day and night, summer and winter, months, years, centuries—these are but the arbitrary and outward signs—the measure of time, not time itself. Time is the life of the soul.

These are the best of times, the worst of times, our age of wisdom, our age of foolishness; we live through epochs of belief, epochs of controversy; it is our season of light with the darkness dawning—these things our high school years are.

In the time of your life, live—so that every moment of time is as valuable as every thread of gold.

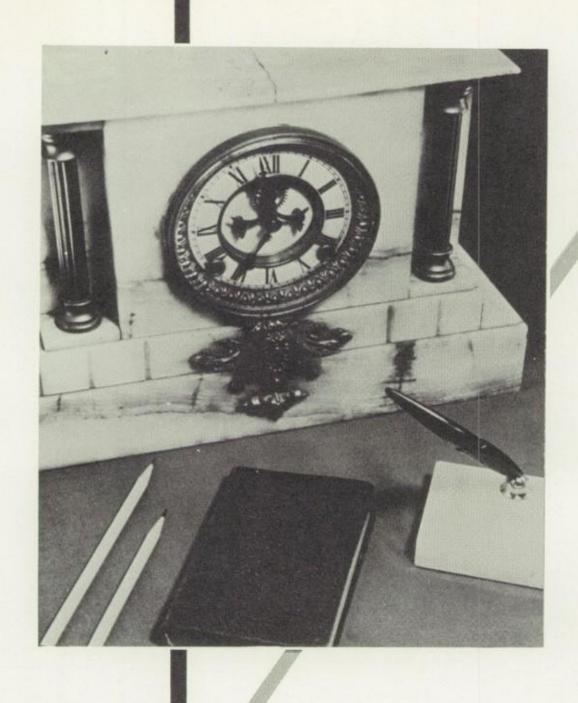

Live—in the time of your life.*

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

W. M. OSTENBERG Superintendent of Schools

Administrative Officials Plan for Progress

Very seldom seen in the halls of Salina High, but heard in many ways is W. M. Ostenberg, superintendent of Salina public schools. As chief planner and coordinator for twelve years, Mr. Ostenberg also keeps the vast machinery of the public schools running smoothly. He received his A.B. from Bethany College and his A.M. from Colorado State College.

New to the Salina school system this year is Dr. Scott Norton, assistant superintendent, who is in charge of instruction and curriculum revision. Dr. Norton, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, has a B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. in Education.

DR. SCOTT NORTON
Assistant Superintendent

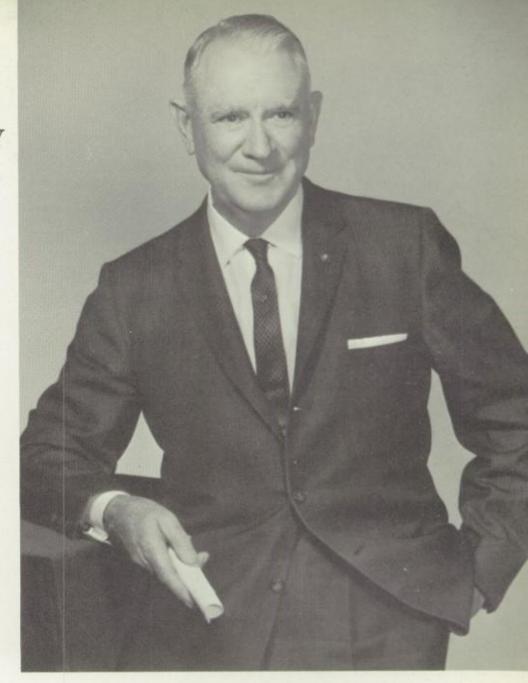

Waring, Board of Education Link School and Community

Progress of the Salina school system is the result of efforts put forth by the Board of Education and Dr. W. W. Waring, Director of Secondary Education.

Dr. Waring has been a top Salina school administrator for thirty-five years, and Director of Secondary Education since 1952. His BS degree is from Baker University; his MS from Columbia University in New York. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity, and he holds an honorary Doctor's degree from Kansas Wesleyan University.

The new addition to the high school is just one of several expansions the Board of Education saw completed this summer. This group copes with the problems of the growing Salina schools. Plans for the completion of Lincoln Junior High School's remodeling, several sites for elementary schools, and an addition at South Junior High School are being discussed.

DR. W. W. WARING Director of Secondary Education

Owen E. Hodgson has been principal of Salina Senior High School for thirty-four years. Twenty-four of these years were in the old Washington building. Since coming to the new building Principal Hodgson has seen the enrollment more than double and an addition to the school which has greatly increased its size.

Principal Hodgson received his B.S. Degree from Pittsburg State College, his Law Degree from Kansas University and his M.A. from Kansas State. Besides being the general supervisor of everything that takes place in the school Mr. Hodgson appoints faculty committees, approves all school policies and organizes the enrollment and placement of students. Outside the school he is very active in church, civic, and fraternal activities and is President of KSTA.

Principals Play Vital Role in Executing Activities

W. E. SIMPSON Assistant Principal

As assistant principal, W. E. Simpson has many tasks which he fulfills very capably each day. When Principal Hodgson must leave the building, it is Mr. Simpson who takes over. Mr. Simpson is also supervisor of the attendance office.

Assistant Principal Simpson has been in the Salina School System for thirty years. He received his B.S. from Kansas State and his M.A. from Stanford. When he isn't busy with school work he is very active in the Lion's Club, the Mason's, is on the board of directors at Asbury Hospital and is Vice President of the Special Education School.

Leaders Offer Constructive Guidance, Aid, Supervision

DEAN OBERHELMAN

Counseling problems, student health, and administrative athletic duties are attended to by four Salina High School directors.

Counselors, Dean Oberhelman and Arthur Miller, aid students in educational and vocational planning, as well as, with personal and social problems. In addition they supervise the testing and scholarship programs.

In charge of health service is Margaretha Entz who conducts special examinations and tests which aim toward better health for the students and the community.

Scheduling games, supervising special athletic events, and in charge of other miscellaneous athletic activities is Ivan Davis, Athletic Director. Mr. Davis also sponsors Letterman's Club.

JAMES L. HOSLEY

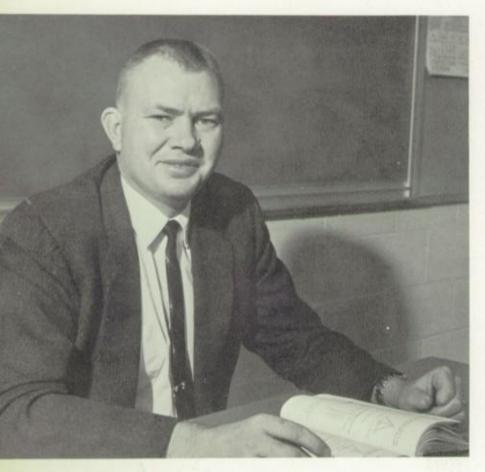

School Loses Inspiration Of James L. Hosley

Teacher, sponsor, and inspiration for two generations of Salina High students, James L. Hosley passed away November 18, 1961, after a prolonged heart illness.

He was born October 23, 1906, in Moran and came to Salina in 1936. He taught social sciences and sponsored Hi-Y clubs each year in junior and senior high schools.

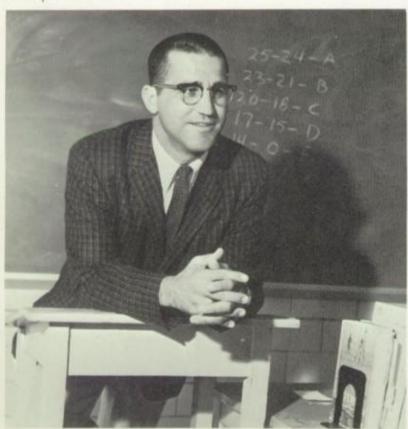

Not only his skills as a teacher, but his many kind deeds will be remembered and missed by students who knew him.

Salad, Dessert for All In Efficient Cafeteria Line

Approximately 1,460 students, faculty members, and other school employees eat lunch daily in the high school cafeteria. From salad to dessert, there is a choice of every item on the menu, and an efficient rotation system assures a short wait for food.

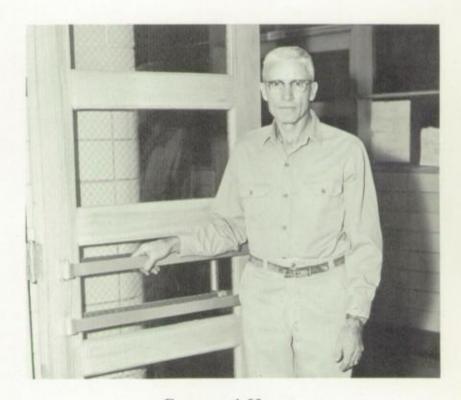

The capable staff, headed by Mrs. Wiley Crider, utilizes up-to-date cooking equipment and clean-up conveniences provided to do its job.

Custodians' Constant Care Keeps Classrooms Clean

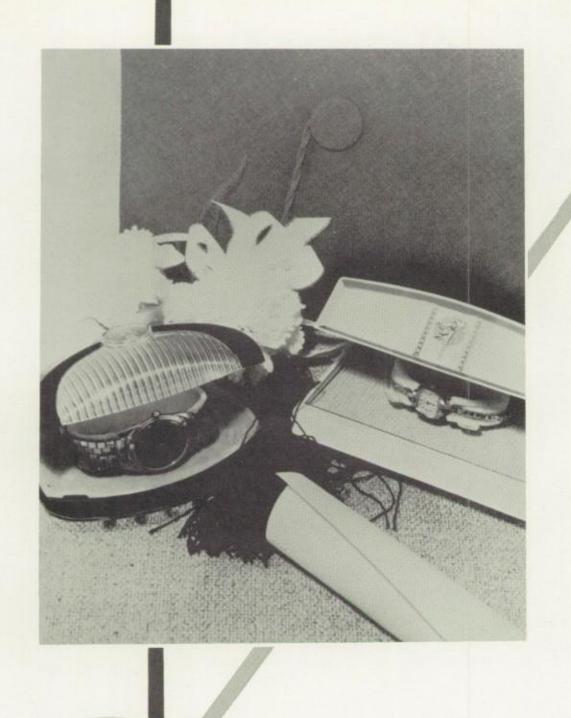

Building maintenance, under the direction of Raymond House, is the never-ending and often "thankless" job of the high school custodial staff. Daily attention is given to chalkboards, desks, floors, and wastebaskets by the custodians, who in this way contribute to school order.

THE LONG, long walk...to get a book!

Halls of Learning Grow Book-Wise and Length-Wise

FREQUENT BOOK displays are interesting features of the library. Stacks of new books on display during National Book Week made its slogan meaningful to Salina students. STUDIOUSLY READING, Rex Baker expresses intelligence in his perseverant acquisition of knowledge.

COOL WEATHER caused the arrival of a harmless snake in R. L. Goering's room. After a treacherous climb through a vent, the enterprising snake was captured.

Salina High's Foremost Re

A school's well being depends on its government's efforts to co-ordinate the activities of its components in such a manner that they work to the common good. At Salina High School the foremost representative body of the students is the Student Council.

Representatives and officers of Student Council are elected by the student body. This year President Tom Payne and Vice President Janet Chartier have kept the sixty-three members and sponsors of StuCo moving.

Projects of main importance this year have been assemblies, Homecoming, a Christmas project, and Junior Red Cross. Foreign exchange students are also sponsored by StuCo. This year Tom Tucker spent the summer in Norway. Angelo Valera, the second boy to come to Salina as an exchange student, is from Granada, Spain.

Sponsors are R. L. Goering, Leslie Neywick,

Emice Dyck, and Martyn Apley.

Hi-Y's Active 300 Members Led by President John Ballard

Hi-Y President John Ballard led the activities and programs of this year's 300 members. Among the many activities Hi-Y took part in were the annual Sweetheart Dance held in February and the Easter Pre-Lenten services. They also sold basketball and football pencils. Delegates to Boys State and Model Legislature were chosen in the spring from the membership. Sponsors are E. J. Dyck, Willis Lobdell, William Smith, and Harold Opdyck.

Hi-Y was organized 44 years ago with the purpose to create, maintain, and extend throughout the community high standards of Christian living. The platform it has followed is clean living, clean speech, clean athletics and clean scholarship.

Y-Teens Sells Mums, Popcorn; Sponsors Special Assemblies

Getting acquainted with 532 fellow members is no easy task but this was the aim of the Y-Teens this fall at their coke party. The occasion was the beginning of several traditional Y-Teens projects and activities which include selling mums at Homecoming, selling popcorn at football games, all-school assembly programs at Thanksgiving and Easter. Y-Teens also co-sponsored the Sweetheart Dance in February. In the Spring senior girls were honored by a special program.

This Girls Christian Organization was led this year by Judy Pound, President, and her executive cabinet under the sponsorship of Mrs. Roberta Miller, Mary Zimmerman, Gayle Kinemond, Hilda Smith, and Tonnie Martin.

NEWS AND advertising sources are chief interests of 'Salina High News' Managing Editor Janet Chartier and Business Manager Dick King.

NEWS STAFF positions are handled by Editors John Ballard, Rich Van Cleef, Marsha Mankin, Ron Ford.

News, Ad Deadlines Met By 'News' Staff Members

Long hours, tired fingers, quick trips downtown to sell ads, and regular contacts to the print shop were the necessary steps to meeting the weekly deadlines of the 'Salina High News.'

Trail Staff Must Endure Long Hours, Tired Eyes

Compiling a yearbook is no easy task as any 1962 Trail staff member well knows. Many long hard hours were spent meeting deadlines and picture assignments.

To present a lasting memory of the year 1961-1962 was the goal of this year's staff. With the combined efforts of Shirley Schneider, Editor; Dick Pfanenstiel, Business Manager; Carolyn Marino, Assistant Editor and all section leaders, the yearbook's plan became a reality.

directed yearbook sales.

FHA Looks to New Horizons— Has Hobby Groups, Makes Toys

One of the largest organizations in Salina High School looks "Toward New Horizons," as their motto states. The Future Homemakers of America with 115 members made money for a special service project at a concession stand during football games this year. Stuffed animals were made as Christmas gifts for underpriviledged children and several girls have been working on State and Chapter degrees. Hobby groups were also popular.

The hard working advisers of this organization are Gayle Kinemond and Mrs. Dorothy Monty.

Service Projects Display FNA Emphasis on Service

Service, emphasized in the organization of Future Nurses, has been exemplified by the club's service projects to the community. They helped all charity drives and during the Christmas season sang carols at Salina hospitals and nursing homes. The Candy Stripers is a group within the club, and is composed of girls who work as volunteer nurses aids at Asbury Hospital. A scholarship is given to a Senior member going into nursing or a related field.

FTA Learns by Practice; Activities Highlight Year

Learning more about the teaching profession through actual work and educational meetings, the Future Teachers were as active as their models in our school. Polishing the apple for the teachers at Salina High has become a tradition on Valentine's Day. A spring banquet with a featured speaker is a highlight of FTA's activities. One day a year, seniors visit local elementary schools and help with teaching. Members earn service points by grading papers and taking roll.

HOURS AND HOURS of grading and correcting papers are spent by Jennipher Whitney in an effort to earn merit points.

PEGGY WILLIAMSON builds up points toward KSTA meeting by recording attendance in the classroom.

Class, Club Closely Related In Agricultural Activities

Closely related (activity-wise) to the vocational agricultural classes is Future Farmers of America, which shows films, features speakers, and in other ways strengthens members' confidence in their work and in themselves. Salina's FFA chapter has placed annually in state and local fair competition.

A parent-son banquet is an annual event in May and climaxes the year's events. Awards and recognition are given at this time to boys who have distinguished themselves in judging contests and other competitive agricultural activities.

Milton Rafferty, Jon Woodward, Jack Mellencamp, Ned Garrigues, Bill Cahill, Rich Lobdell, Barbara Rueb, Janet Stauffer, John Ballard, George Toland, and Loren Hazelwood.

Scientific Students Build Projects, Compile Reports

Developing projects to perfect scientific skills, and understanding the importance of science in human lives were the objectives of the Up and Atom Science Club. First semester meetings were devoted to guest lecturers and field trips; second semester special reports by members who developed projects were scheduled. Certificates were awarded to project builders at a special assembly. A picnic in May finished up the year's events.

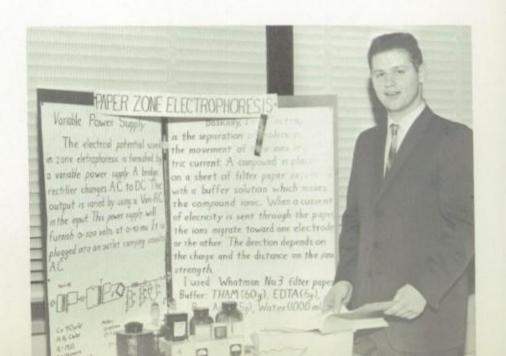

Up and Atom's members participated in a local Science Fair for Salina High students only, February 19. The projects were judged by townspeople. Those who received Superior and Good ratings qualified to enter the District Science Fair at Kansas Wesleyan and the Junior Academy of Science at Marymount.

Students who went to the Junior Academy of Science at Marymount March 9, gave eight minute speeches with their projects. Three were selected from this group to present papers to the Senior Academy of Science in May. Some students who competed in this event were offered scholarships.

Students whose projects were judged best at the District Science Fair were sent to Seattle, Washington, to compete in the National Science Fair.

Promotes Foreign Interests

DRAFTING THE constitution for Salina High's newest club are officers—Don Field, President; Tom Tucker, Vice President; Shirley Schneider, Secretary; Larry Franklin, Treasurer; Ellen and Susan Backstrom, Corresponding Secretaries; and Paul Froman, Historian.

"IF I were President...," expounds Charles Turpen while Tom Tucker explains plan for world disarmament.

Promoting interest in foreign affairs, International Relations Club organized for the first time this year and is the only social science club at Salina High. Eric Stein, Russian teacher from Marymount; Dr. Jack Vanderhoof, Kansas Wesleyan University; and Carl Mibeck, SHS debate and social science teacher were among the speakers at the club's informal meetings.

Early in the fall members began corresponding with students in Pakistan, Germany, Laos, Malaya, and Israel. President Don Field has written to practically every embassy in the world in hopes of exchanging films, pamphlets, and other information to promote better understanding.

German Club Achieves Worthwhile Objectives

It was Kaffeeklatsch time...and near to "impromptu" action by German Clubber Rich Van Cleef brought the funniest music ever heard to the eighth annual German Club event. Van's Merry Band played again for the Gemutlichkeitsfest in May. The Kaffeeklatsch took place in November this year, and German pastries and punch were served. The Gemutlichkeitsfest is the organization's annual social event.

Salina High's German Club—112 members strong—is over ten years old, and donates proceeds from its money-making projects to such worthy organizations as AFS and CARE. Students who belong to this club are required to have successfully completed one year of German. Advisor is Arnold Lehmann.

"I WONDER how much I can get for a nickel," ponders Becky Renich at the German Club Kaffeeklatsch.

Club Members Exercise Spanish Habits and Customs

Films and talks bimonthly acquainted the 70 members of Spanish Club with living habits and pathways of Spanish speaking countries. This knowledge was used when Spanish Club members celebrated Pan American Day and interpreted Cinderella in Spanish style for the All Language Club Christmas party. The banquet in the Spring featured Spanish food, dress, and entertainment. Chocolate bar sales by club members financed these colorful activities.

Capturing Parisian Influence Is Objective of French Club

Becoming better acquainted with the land and people of the country they were studying was the objective of the French Club in their discussions of French themes and ideas. Several members gave reports on French cathedrals and dancing. At one meeting male members played the television game, "Password," in French! During the Christmas season, French clubbers sang Christmas carols in French and presented their version of "Cinderella" at the All Language Club party.

Roman Life and Holidays Highlight SPQR Meetings

Reports on Roman life and mythology, usually in the form of plays and skits, are the activities of Latin Club, SPQR. Slides of Pompeii, Rome, Capri and other European sights were shown at a meeting by advisor Mrs. N. T. Stewart.

SPQR's main event takes place annually on the Ides of March (March 15), the anniversary of Caesar's death. At this banquet Roman food is served by "slaves" from the junior high to SPQR members in Roman dress. Entertainment is typically Roman too—music, dancing, and wrestling.

Roman Philosophy Probed At Latin III Club Meetings

Latin III Club's 14 members spent their monthly meetings giving special reports on Latin writers and their works, including Catullus, Ovid, and Lucretius. Religions of ancient civilizations were also compared in special reports by the students.

In addition, Dr. Felix Wassermann, a professor at Kansas Wesleyan University, discussed the Stoic and Epicurean philosophies of the Romans, and Angelo Valera, Salina High's foreign exchange student, talked about the life and writings of Cicero. A social event closed the club's activities for the year. Mrs. N. T. Stewart is the advisor.

Numerous Honors Achieved By Honorary Organization

More an honorary organization than a club National Forensics League's members are students who have earned a set number of points by previous experience in speech and debate events. Members are eligible to earn degrees of Honor Achievement, Excellence, and Distinction. Squad Preserves Tradition Of Successful Debating Salina High debaters of 1961-62 were successful in their efforts to preserve the winning tradition of Coach Carl Mibeck's teams over the past decade. Although the squad was one of the smallest in recent SHS history, it proved to be one of the most potent.

During the regular debate season the squad won first, second, or third place trophies in 7 out of 10 tournaments. Members of the novice squad indicated another good season in store for next year as they collected two first place wins along with a third place showing in novice tournament action.

Winning activities of the advanced debaters centered around the efforts of Lee Byrd, Don Field, Pam Longhofer, and Paul Froman. These debaters won at El Dorado, Hutchinson, Norton, and Hays.

After the regulation season was complete, Pam, Lee, and Don were chosen to represent SHS at the Ft. Hays State District tournament. From here they went to the State tourney at KU where they achieved the best showing of any Salina High team in the school's history by placing third.

Preparing for Opportunities, Business Club Serves City

Businesses and the opportunities of the business world were the topics that 42 Business Club members viewed and heard at their meetings this year. Besides learning about business, this group was helpful to the community. A basketful of clothing, canned and fresh food was given to a needy family as a Christmas project.

Also, at their Christmas meeting each member brought a small toy; these were collected and taken to the pediatrics wards in both Salina hospitals. The club had an annual Breakfast in the school cafeteria late in the winter. Ending the activities for the year a Spring banquet was held; a summary of how the year had been spent was given.

Spring Production Climaxes Dramatics Club Activities

D-Club's membership—a select 60—is made up of students who have proven their interest in drama by noticeable contributions to Salina High play productions.

D-Club's main event is its annual production. The actors feeling "accomplished" by this time in their dramatic experience go all out to equal Jack Kelly's previous presentations. A spring banquet, usually at the Brookville Hotel, honors new members and Thespians.

Students Render Aid As Library Assistants

Martha Mae Marsh's Library staff provided special services for SHS students and faculty, both during the school hours and the three nights a week the library was open. A field trip was taken to the Wilson Architectural Firm to examine its library. Highlighting the year's activities was the Senior picnic, prepared by Sophomore and Junior members.

Club Sends Salina Queen To State Safety Contest

The Salina High School Safety Club, in affiliation with the state association, considers safety in all its respects at Salina High. Maintaining a safety bulletin board in the corridor opposite the main office is one of the major concerns of the organization. A highway patrol assembly is also sponsored by the club.

Highlighting the year's activities was the Kansas Teen-Age Association conference in Topeka. The Salina chapter was privileged to send Janet Stauffer, Salina Safety Queen, and other club members to this March meeting. They attended the Governor's Ball where the state safety queen was crowned.

THINKING OF new ways to pick up glass in the parking lot was a major project of Safety Club members, Charles Hudson, Dianne Bass, John Tisdel, Gene McClain, Dennis Brady, Jeff Berg, Wayne Johnson, Loren Bogart, C. H. Rittman, and Susan McPhail.

Enthusiasm and spirit effectively matching that of the Mustang football and basketball teams is an accurate description of this year's Girl's Pep Club. In full force for all home games to cheer the "mighty Mustangs" onto victory were the 280 members. So that the Pep Band and Pep Club might combine to produce an appeal for victory, musical cheers were created.

Safety, Then Accuracy Aim of Rifleman's Club

Meeting every Tuesday night on the Rifle range, the 30 members of the Salina High School Junior Rifle Club learn the proper technique of handling a rifle and how to shoot in competition. The members shoot for awards by making a certain score on a specified number of targets. The awards, issued by the National Rifle Association, range from "Pro Marksman" to "Distinguished."

Through a match held in the spring each year, the government issues medals to the winners. All shooting is done in one of four positions—prone, kneeling, sitting, or standing. Victor Klotz, Ermal Rasmussen, and W. E. Simpson are sponsors.

Projectionists Show Films

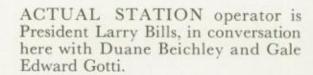

Of great service to the Salina High School faculty and students are the projectionists, who show curriculum related films to help back up textbook presentation of subject material. The projectionists keep film and machines in working condition which may be scheduled at any hour during the school day.

Salina High has five movie projectors, one slide projector, an opaque projector, a glass slide projector, record player, and tape recorder.

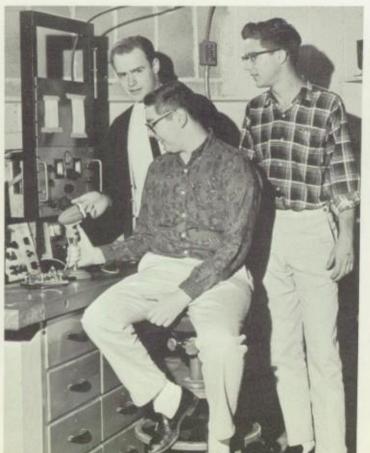

Radio Club Relays Info

Relaying storm information and other messages from college students to their parents has been a job of the Amateur Radio Club this year. Promoting interest in the fields of electronics and amateur radio, and encouraging creative thinking are the main purpose of this organization.

Madrigals, Boy and Girl Ensembles Give Music Spirit

Well known through numerous appearances before Salina High students as well as community clubs are the Madrigals, composed of senior boys and girls. They sing a variety of songs and this year contributed music to the Elks' Annual Memorial Service which took place early in December.

Several smaller ensembles have been formed by members in the larger groups, producing music for any occasion. Boys in the Boys Quartette have discovered fun of harmony, barbershop, and rhythm type songs, and the Choraliers sing the more sentimental type song. Girls' Sextet members have sung together for three years straight and have placed first in the district music festival in the sophomore and junior years. The Girls' Trio was organized two years ago for a select group of girls who like to sing the old favorites and modern songs.

Large Song Groups Have Entertaining Repertoire

Melotones, a junior group, singing the same light entertaining music as the Madrigals, performed twice during the KSTA meetings in November and sang the carols in the Christmas production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Primarily composed of sophomores, the Chansonaires' repertoire is very much like that of the Madrigals and Melotones.

The most select group in the Music Department is the Special Ensemble, with 16 members which combines with the Symphonettes to make Symphonaires. All music groups are under the direction of Paul Ryberg and sing in the District Music Festival at Kansas Wesleyan University each year. They also sing individually and in a group at an annual Salina High School Spring Music Concert.

Boys', Girls' Glee Clubs Sing Appealing Numbers

For many, an initial step toward membership in Madrigals, Chansonnaires, and A Cappella Choir is membership in Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs.

Boys sing songs which appeal to the male population and spirituals such as "Rock-A-My-Soul."

Sacred, secular, and popular numbers give Girls' Glee Club members an appreciation of a variety of musical numbers. Both groups helped the Salina Chamber of Commerce to officially open the Christmas Season by singing carols downtown.

Marching Band Leads Parade at KU Band Day

In brand-new uniforms, Salina High's Marching Band led 72 high schools in the Kansas University Band Day Parade at Lawrence early this fall. The group also took part in parades at the Kansas State University Band Day and the Hutchinson State Fair.

Besides invitational trips, the band prepares and performs intricate maneuvers at all home football games, as well as preparing special numbers for concert programs throughout the year. The twirlers practice many extra hours during the summer and fall to learn complicated routines planned by head twirler Dena Phillips, and Mrs. Eugene Velhartichy, instructor. In addition to giving special performances, the baton corps always marches in front of the band. Jim Austin, after attending a drum major clinic during the summer, capably led the Marching Band in its fall parades and field maneuvers.

Concert Band's Music Range—Modern to Classical

Winter and spring concerts were presented this year by the 90-piece Salina High Concert Band—a selected group which strives to cover a complete repertoire, ranging from modern to classical and baroque music. The emphasis of this group is on music education rather than performance.

With McPherson and Hutchinson High Schools, the Concert Band participated in a Tri-City Music Clinic at McPherson; they also represented Salina High at the District Music Festival in the spring. Dr. Olin Parker directs the Concert Band.

Symphonettes 'Concertize' Progressive Jazz Idiom

Music by the Symphonettes, Salina High Dance Band, ranges from popular to various styles of progressive jazz. "We 'concertize' the progressive jazz idiom that is appropriate for dancing," says Dr. Olin Parker, Director.

Providing music for the Cherokee Thanksgiving Semi-formal Dance and giving programs for school assemblies, PTA meetings, and civic organizations have kept this group busy this year. Individual members participate as soloists in monthly Music Department recitals and in the District Music Festival in the spring. For special performances, the Symphonettes combine with the Special Vocal Ensemble to form the Symphonaires and go on a one day tour to perform at neighboring schools.

STRING QUARTET: Janet Crawford, Donna LaMar, Susan Whitney, Darlene Freeman.

With a repertoire ranging from classics to modern, the Orchestra was depended upon this year to provide music for "Annie Get Your Gun," the fall musical, and "Amahl and the Night Visitors," the Christmas opera. The orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Olin Parker, also gave two concerts and festivals during the year.

Three years of performance service by the String Quartette have made this group familiar to Salinans. Darlene Freeman, Donna LaMar, Janet Crawford, and Susan Whitney—all seniors—comprise the classical ensemble of the instru-

Pep Band, Dixie Beats 'Liven Up' School Activities

DIXIE BEATS: Greg Hanson, Larry Maxwell, David Sanders, Garry Maxwell, Robert Jones, Danny Keller, Ron Jarrett.

Two organizations which provide a lot of spunk and punch to livelier school activities are the Dixie Beats and the Salina High Pep Band. The Dixie Beats, a jazz band organized last year by David Miller, 1961 graduate, provided entertainment for assemblies and service clubs. There were seven members this year.

The Pep Band brought school spirit and enthusiasm to all home basketball games, wrestling matches, and pep rallies. As a group they supported the Mustangs by journeying to games away from home. Membership for Pep Band is selective; students audition individually.

Salina High Observes Traditional Homecoming

Salina Senior High School still adheres to a course of tradition where even the Harvard ivy cannot flourish. Annually it has been the custom to designate one home football game as our school's Homecoming. The activities are sponsored and conducted through the Student Council. Committees are chosen for all areas of preparation to insure a smooth-running ceremony the night of the coronation.

The members of the senior class select the five queen candidates, who themselves must be seniors. From these five, the juniors and seniors jointly elect the Homecoming Queen. Although the election is held the Thursday before Homecoming, the results of the voting are not revealed until the half time of the game. Between the third and fourth quarters of the football game-which is also becoming traditionally victorious—the queen candidates, dressed in colorful, ballroomlength gowns are seen. Each of the candidates has a retinue which consists of an escort and driver. The young ladies are surrounded by members of the Marching Band and Pep Club, under the direction of Dr. Olin Parker. These two groups form honorary symbols for each girl.

Tension rises to its peak for all concerned; whether on the field or in the stands as the president of Student Council removes, from a sealed envelope, the answer to a question asked many times fold pryor to the event. Then the Queen is revealed; she receives a crown, a gorgeous bouquet of roses, and the "royal kiss." Thus, the Queen's reign begins. And thus it was for Queen Pam Flory, of the 1961 Salina High Homecoming.

LEADING THE cheers at the Homecoming bonfire is junior cheerleader, Carol Ann Claus. The bonfire followed the parade as the students prepared for the Great Bend game.

FOLLOWING THE activity of the contest, Pam is surrounded, while surprised, spirited spectators view the still shot.

"EVERYONE OF you has helped to make this evening perfect," states Queen Pam during the half-time coronation at the Homecoming game. "I know none of us will ever forget the Homecoming of 1961."

SEEKING SOVEREIGNTY under the lights, the chosen five endure tense moments.

IN THE aftermath of Salina's numerous touchdowns, Pam excitedly recalls with Angelo Válera, Spain's delegate to Salina High, the evening's

'Annie' Proves to be a Unique Experience for Many

When a first night audience poured into the high school auditorium October 30 to see "Annie Get Your Gun," they were introduced to a fresh new face prototyping the Annie Oakley legend—that of Ninafaye Aldridge. A production of Salina High's Music and Dramatics Departments, the show was beautifully staged and set by art and stagecraft students. The cast—including dancers, girls chorus, boys chorus, and Indians—numbered nearly 100. A capacity crowd saw performances both on October 30 and 31.

Annie's story, typical rags-to-riches saga, began when she met Frank Butler (played by Richard Wattenbarger) at a rifle match arranged to publicize Butler's show. Annie won—and as a result became a part of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show! (Buffalo Bill was played by Dick King.) Annie fell for Frank immediately; eventually the feeling was mutual; and though the usual lover's quarrel interrupted, they ended up in each other's arms when in a final scene Annie had the foresight and good sense to lose a shooting match with Frank.

"OH, MY God, he's not going to scalp me!" cries Dolly, as Charlie and Sitting Bull prepare to lift her tresses after catching her red-handed in Annie's gun case.

Winnie Tate (Linda Reed) and Tommy Keeler (Bob Scribner) fell in love too. They danced and sang to "I'll Share It All With You," and "Who Do You Love." Frequent laughs were caused by Pat Wolf as Dolly Tate, Dick Pfanenstiel as Chief Sitting Bull, and Janet Chartier as Sylvia Potter-Porter.

One of the most impressive scenes in the musical was Annie's adoption by Sitting Bull. A ceremonial Indian dance was professionally done by Cecil Pettit Jr., a Salina High sophomore. Other characters were Pawnee Bill, Wally Kraft; Charlie Davenport, Larry Ben Franklin; Little Boy, Jan Ryberg; Little Girl, Carolyn Cox; Mac, Jon Burch; Foster Wilson, Larry Smith; Coolie, Steve Oniki; Dolly Tate, Pat Wolf; Minnie, Marsha Garrett; Jessie, Priscilla Baxter; Nellie, Sheri Hill; Little Jake, Paul Ryberg, Jr.; Pawnee's Messenger, Rod Yale; Indian Chanter, Jack Brown; and Indian Boy, Randy Reed.

In charge of dramatics was Jack Kelly; chorus, Paul Ryberg; orchestra, Dr. Olin Parker; choreography, Mrs. Robert Caldwell; and Indian dancing, Cecil Pettit, Sr.

"I'M A bad, bad man," sings Mr. Frank Butler, trying to impress the girls.

"WHO'S GOT the stuff that makes the Wild West wild," sings show manager, Charlie Davenport.

THEY SAY that falling in love is wonderful and Annie and Frank are beginning to find "what they say" is true.

"...AND YOU pulled the train out and left me!" shouts Dolly Tate to her brother Charlie Davenport.

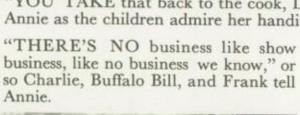

"CHARMED, I'M sure," states Miss Sylvia Potter Porter as Frank Butler appears disinterested.

"I'VE GOT the sun in the morning...I'm alright," sings Annie at the Brevort party.

"YOU TAKE that back to the cook, Little Jake," says Annie as the children admire her handiwork.

"NOW I make you my tribal daughter," Chief Sitting Bull informs Annie at the big tribal ceremony to induct Annie into the Sioux tribe.

"PULL," SAYS Annie, and scores another hit in the shooting competition with Frank Butler as the crowd, feeling the excitement, awaits another performance of good marksmanship.

Comedy of Shanty-boat Girl Is Junior Class Spectacular

As the final curtain fell on the Junior class play, "Tammy Tell Me True," the audience shared the Junior's reluctance to see the final curtain drawn. Presented March 1 and 3 in the high school auditorium, the happy outcome of Tammy's escapades left a mood of gaiety.

Donna Massey, as Tammy, (quoting director Jack Kelly), out-Dee'd Sandra Dee, who played the screen role.

Tickets sold by Junior class members exceeded the number sold for any previous dramatic production given by Salina High, excluding musicals. The cast was also unique, as it was the largest of any play ever presented at Salina High.

Irresistable Tammy (Donna Massey), a shantyboat girl with no formal education but wise in the knowledge of people, enrolls at State College. She wants Pete Brent (Bill Ziegert), her own true love, to be "proud" of her. Pete, however, is not too pleased upon her arrival. Thomas Freeman (Dave Bell), a young professor at the college charmed by Tammy's quaint manner of speech and her understanding of people, advises her about courses. Miss Jenks (Paula Adrian), the Dean of Women, refuses to let Tammy live alone on the shanty boat. Just when it appears that Tammy may have to leave the college, a new friend comes to the rescue. Mrs. Annie Call (Linda Leffingwell), a rich but lonely old woman who is dominated by a money hungry niece, Sandra Rook (Stephanie Sampson), comes to live on the boat with Tammy, but she insists that her identity be kept a secret. Mrs. Call becomes a new and happy woman through Tammy's help.

The suspense mounts when Mrs. Call's niece starts a police search for her. The police find Mrs. Call on the shanty boat, and Tammy is accused of theft. Now she needs Pete's help most of all, but it is Tom Freeman who comes to her aid, not Pete. Tammy then realizes that she has learned a new understanding of true love.

Other cast members were Grandpa, Ed Gray; Professor Everett, Ted Haggart; Joey, Neil Forehand; Rita, Mary Pryor; Miss Bromley, Lila Berkley; Margo, Katie Hughes; Abby, Sheryl Paradis; Chuck, Dick Nivison; Collette, Anita Brown; Mrs. Shaefer, Kathy Mize; Nelda, Julie Forehand; Harold, Linden Lorenson; Julien, John Mize; Kiley, Mike Shilling; Mrs. Grayson, Carol Ann Claus; Mr. Willing, Doug Martin; Jones, Dennis Van Fossen; Judge Slater, Larry Todd; Mr. Holman, Don Field; Dr. Stach, Louvae Gibson; Mrs. Van Ness, Donna Lorenson; Crushak, Mike Mortimer; Della, Gail Haworth; Dr. Garfield, Jerry Weaver.

"AND THEY lived happily, happily, happily, ever after," goes an ancient fairy tale as Tom Freeman carries Tammy away from the nomadic life of a shanty-boat girl to the exciting life of a college professor's wife.

"WOEBEGONE, CHILD," prays Grandpa as he and Tammy prepare to part; he to go to jail and she to go to college in a strange, new world of higher education.

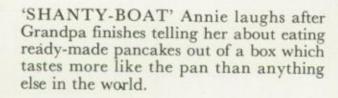

ANNIE CALL protests when her daughter Sandra tries to take her back to her old dusty house to live in sorrow and loneliness.

"YOU KIDS go to bed now. At once!" orders Professor Shaefer when he discovers that Tammy has been telling his children Bible stories.

"MORE POWER to you, old lady!" shouts Crushak, the cab driver, as he slaps Mrs. Call on the back and congratulates her after the judge declares that she was of sane mind.

"GOOD-BY, 'ELLEN B.' . . . He won't ever come again " sobs Tammy. But he did.

JEFFREY ASKS librarian, Fairy May, to reach for his book "The Life Span of the Ape."

"NO ONE has said they loved me this livelong day," says Fairy May to Ethel Savage who has the answer.

MRS. PADDY'S painting is nothing but wavy lines to her friends, but "Cloister" folks can insure happiness with a secret.

Seniors Stage 'Savage,' Comedy with Mixed Moods

The seniors chose as their class production John Patrick's entertaining and heart rending play, "The Curious Savage." A play with a brilliant tone of humor and an overtone of seriousness, was viewed by capacity crowds both nights it was presented.

The plot concerns a middle-aged woman, who because of several curious adventures she has undertaken, is put in an institution known as the Cloisters. Her latest adventure is that of placing all her late husband's memorial fund in a place where her three children could not get it.

When Mrs. Savage arrives at the Cloisters her heart is immediately touched by a few of the "guests." She is introduced to Florence, who carries a doll around with her all day thinking it is her own child. Hannibal thinks he is the greatest of violinists; Fairy May, a young girl, thinks she is the most beautiful girl in the world; Jeffrey thinks he is a great pianist; Mrs. Paddy hates almost everything in the world and thinks she is a great artist.

The climax comes when Mrs. Savage realizes the Cloisters isn't the place for her to be spending the rest of her life. However, each of the "guests" finds it quite hard to say good-bye to Mrs. Savage, who is the only person who has really shown them love.

MRS. PADDY didn't take the bonds from the room as Dr. Emmett thinks; she has only hidden the Cloister's radio tubes.

"THERE'S A fire upstairs," repeats Fairy May, but not much attention is given her until Miss Willie finds the smoldering bonds in the bath tub.

FAIRY MAY has some critical views of Mrs. Paddy's attempts at art.

THE SOFT strains of a concert violin, a gently breathing sea echo, a world in peace. Mrs. Savage walks slowly away, leaving the lost people in the egg-shell world.

"SHE BIT me!" shouts Lily Belle. "Does it hurt?" asks Samuel before Titus can again restore order.

FLORENCE AND Fairy May are in their parts perfectly, even in their off-stage rooms.

PREPARING FOR the homecoming parade, cheerleaders gather in the car for the trip down Santa Fe.

"FIGHT FIERCELY, Mustangs!" yell cheerleaders, during one of their after school practice sessions in the lobby.

Cheerleaders Create Yells To Urge Crowd Response

Seven cheerleaders, chosen from nearly sixty contestants last spring, spent summer mornings—6 A.M., three times a week—perfecting Salina High yells. With precision as their standard, and rousing crowd enthusiasm their goal, the girls created new cheers to urge the Mustangs on to victory during the 1961-62 season. During the school year, practices continued after school twice weekly.

The enthusiastic group traveled to every CKL football and basketball game, and worked with Pep Club officers to plan rousing pep assemblies on days of home games. They constructed a "dummy" figure of a Great Bend football player to be destroyed at the Homecoming bonfire. This action symbolizing a Salina victory, was later proven true by the Mustang gridirons.

ONCE UPON a time there were seven cheerleaders— Pat McAninch, Jerilyn Lisman, Carol Claus, Margie Steele, Betty Kastner, Carlene Imler, and Pam Flory.

Continental Conventions Accompany AFS to SHS

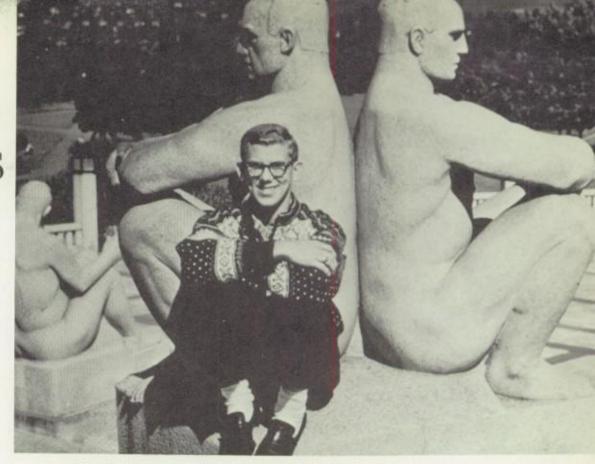

Tom Tucker enjoyed the slower, more easy-going way of life he found as an American Field Service exchange student in Norway last summer. Tom lived on a farm with Jens Martin Slotnas, his wife, and three sons, whose cordialness never failed to make him feel like "one of the family."

"It's wonderful to be able to think and act like the people of America." This is what Angelo Valera says about being Salina High's seventh foreign exchange student. Angelo has lived with the Russell Myers family since his arrival in August, 1961. Interested in dramatics, he was on the "Annie Get Your Gun" cast in the fall; he also paints, cycles, swims, and plays tennis and football.

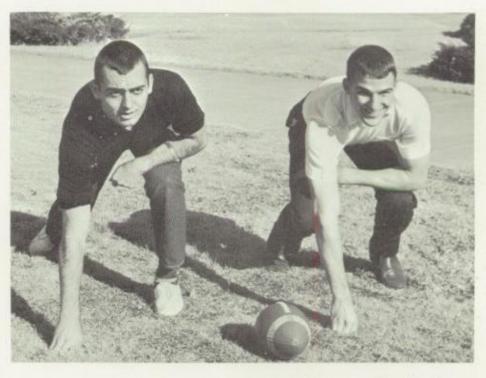

"ASI ES la vida," proclaims Angelo from his commanding position where he has a pretty good view of the whole world.

FINDING THAT a tandem bicycle is not the easiest way to tour the neighborhood, Angelo and Tom may decide to take the boat back.

IN THE midst of wanderlust, intriguing Vigeland Park, Tom Tucker sits among the thinkers of an age—two of Ole Rolvaag's "Giants in the Earth."

"READY, SET, one, two, three," quarterbacks Rusty Myers as he and Angelo prepare to charge off the line in a friendly football game between 'brothers.'

KEEPING AN eye out for any new developments are the Boy's State delegates—John Ballard, Tom Payne, Rich Van Cleef, Jerry Ireton, Dennis Pugh, David Cromwell, John Page.

WAITING FOR the group to quiet down in order to give her report of Girl's State is Y-Teen representative, Kathy Urbanek.

SHS Students Experience Mock Government Sessions

Kathy Urbanek, Salina High's representative to Girl's State, was elected Justice of the Supreme Court of the model government on KU's campus in the summer. During the busy week, the girls attending experienced government in action on the county and state level. Governor Anderson witnessed the inauguration of the officials who were elected.

Salina High delegates to Boy's State—John Page, Jerry Ireton, Rich Van Cleef, John Ballard, Tom Payne, Dave Cromwell, Dennis Pugh—spent a week in June practicing government policies at Wichita West. The boys were assigned to locations representing cities and counties in Kansas. These groups competed against each other in marching and efficiency.

Wild campaigning preceded the election of state and county officials and members to the Supreme Court and Legislature. Posters covered everything in sight including the floors.

Thanks to Rich Van Cleef and John Ballard, 1961 Boy's State was not without a daily newspaper. The mimeographed Centennial Centinel kept the delegates informed. Ending the week's activities was the Governor's Ball.

THE GOOD Citizenship Award was presented to Susie Miller by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Seniors Accept Awards, Win Merit Scholarships

Chosen on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism, Susie Miller was elected as Salina High's Good Citizen in late winter, 1962. Her responsibility in this position was to write a 300 word essay entitled "A Republic—If You Can Keep It." The essay was judged with those of other high schools in the district, state, and nation. Susie presented this subject in an assembly in March.

One-hundred ten senior girls took.the hour-long Betty Crocker search for the Homemaker of Tomorrow test at SHS this year. The girls were tested on their knowledge of all phases of homemaking and the highest scorer from each school competed for state honors. Barbara Schmidt was named winner in late winter.

Four National Merit scholars—Pam Bell, Pam Longhofer, John Ballard and Richard Van Cleef, were named by the Merit Corporation in February. The results of a test which other Salina High School Juniors took in the spring of 1961, showed these four on top with students from all over the United States. The College Board test taken in December, resulted with the complete quartet qualifying again.

"WHAT'S COOKING?"—brings a radiant smile to pert Barbara Schmidt, Betty Crocker Award winner.

NATIONAL MERIT finalists—Rich Van Cleef, Pam Longhofer, Pam Bell, and John Ballard—take a little time off from their work to relax outside the library with a soft drink.

Kizer, Flory Selected As Most Representative

Spring had come to Salina High suddenly, unexpectedly, briefly, and before March 21. Once again it was time to renew tradition... and seniors and faculty members chose Pam Flory and Ron Kizer to be the boy and girl who would best represent the Class of 1962 anywhere in the world at any time. They were elected on the basis of achievement, comradeship, dependability, cooperation, and ideals.

Very deserving runners-up to these honor positions were Barbara Brodine and Judy Pound for Representative Girl, and John Ballard and Ron Ford for Representative Boy.

These three boys were also chosen by the senior boys as the three finalists for the American Legion Good Citizenship Award. John Ballard was the recipient of this honor award. Runners-up were Ron Kizer and Ron Ford.

BEARING GIFTS, the shepherds come to see the three kings, who have stopped to rest at the home of Amahl.

'Why the Chimes Rang,' 'Amahl' Becoming Traditional

Becoming traditional at Salina High are two Christmas plays, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and "Why the Chimes Rang". Both plays are presented by the Drama and Music Departments under the direction of Jack Kelly (dramatics), Olin Parker (orchestra), and Paul Ryberg (chorus). The plays were presented on December 18.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors" is an opera concerning a poor, crippled boy who lives with his widowed mother. They are visited by three kings who are on their way to see the Christ Child, whose star they have seen in the eastern skies. The climax of the play comes when Amahl presents his one crutch to the Christ Child. In so doing a miracle takes place and Amahl is able to walk again.

The cast of characters—Amahl, Jeff West; Amahl's mother, Sally Hazley; King Kasper, Richard Wattenbarger; King Melchoir, Doug Martin; King Balthazar, Larry Lakin; and the page, Bob Scribner.

"Why the Chimes Rang" portrays the story of a young boy who made the chimes ring in the cathedral in his town because of his kindness and unselfish attitude to a poor old woman.

In the cast were Holgar, Neil Forehand; Steen, Richard Kelley; Uncle Bertel, Bob Baskin; Old Woman, Martha Youngdahl; Priest, David Bell; Page, Larry Stewart; Young Girl, Diane Houghton; Scholar, Jack Haney; Rich Man, Kerry Brockman; Rich Woman, Linda Garrison; King, Paul Curtis; and Angel, Lila Berkley.

AMAHL, THE three kings—Balthazar, Kasper, and Melchoir—and their page stop to rest at the local inn on their way to visit the king.

"WHAT SAY?" asks King Kasper as Amahl questions him about his parrot.

FINDING HIMSELF in an "I hate Life photographers" position, Reagan Koons stops to observe the accomplishment of stage crew members, Sally Kane and Carol Claus.

BEAMING WITH pride, directors Jack Kelly and Paul Ryberg admire the "sold out" tags on the seating charts for the musical, "Annie Get Your Gun."

"AHOOOOOOOOOO....." cries "Tarzan" Turpen, as he prepares to beat his chest and leap among the savages from the ladder of his "tree house."

THINKING THOSE thoughts that only someone who has experienced the excitement of a school production can realize, Phyllis Anderson awaits the opening curtain of the senior play.

BUILDING A train is no easy task, but the crews for "Annie Get Your Gun" came through with this and many other complex stage settings.

EXCITEMENT REIGNS for runners-up Dodge Engleman and Margie Steele as well as for Sweetheart Royalty.

WITH THE announcement of the queen, Barbara Brodine ecstatically stifles her surprise.

THE CROWD gathers as the excitement mounts, and each of the six candidates waits hopefully for his name to be read.

CROWNING THE King and Queen, John Ballard and Judy Pound, Hi-Y and Y-Teens Presidents, add the finishing touch to an eventful evening.

Barbara, Jerry Reign At St. Valentine's Dance

Barbara Brodine and Jerry Leach were voted King and Queen of Hearts at the annual Hi-Y, Y-Teens Sweetheart Dance, appropriately and traditionally scheduled in February near Valentine's Day. The royalty, crowned by Y-Teens president Judy Pound and Hi-Y president John Ballard, shared their glory with runners-up Margie Steele and Jean Ann Riddle for queen, and Dodge Engleman and John Hedeen for king.

The candidates for queen were nominated by the boys on the Hi-Y cabinet, and the Y-Teens cabinet nominated the king candidates. Club members attending the dance voted when they entered. St. Valentine's colors were carried out in heart shaped decorations. Immediately after their crowning, the King and Queen led the dancing to the tune of "My Funny Valentine." Favorite dance music was provided by the Hutchinson High Chancellors.

Mustangs Bravely Face Best Teams in League

The Salina High Mustangs opened their 1961 Football season with a 45-0 victory over Wichita Heights, a new school in Wichita, of non-league standing. Coach Pearce allowed the sophomores to see action in the latter part of the game.

McPherson, the Mustangs' second foe, offered little more competition than the first. The Mustangs downed the Bullpups 40-0 in their first league contest of the season.

The Mustangs' drive continued to a three-way tie for the CKL lead by smashing the Clay Center Tigers 24-7. Jerry Leach, Salina's fleet-footed half-back, led the scoring attack with three touchdowns. Most of the game was played through rain and on a muddy field.

The Mustangs captured the CKL lead by stopping the Abilene Cowboys 20-0. A tough Abilene defense made it difficult for the Mustangs to move the ball as efficiently as in previous games, but the outstanding leadership of quarter-back Ron Kizer, again proved too much for the opposition. The combined running and passing of Kizer accounted for all of Salina's touchdowns.

A non-league victory over Wichita North stretched the Mustangs winning record to five wins and no defeats. The score was 12-7 as the horn sounded the finish.

The twenty-fourth annual Homecoming honored Pam Flory as its queen, and the football team produced its sixth consecutive win of the season. A week later the Emporia Spartans lost their seventh game in a row as Salina won its seventh. The 41-6 upset left the Mustangs within two games of the CKL title. Excellent pass receiving prompted the smashing victory.

PASS COMPLETE...On to the goal and another Mustang Victory!

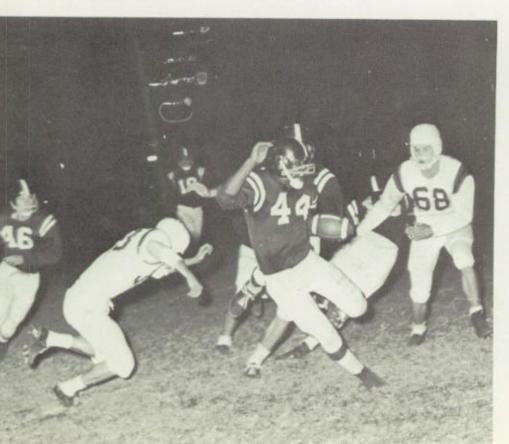

HALFBACK MIKE Boswell is plowed under by a Manhattan Indian as he tries to sweep around the end.

The Junction City Blue Jays broke the Mustangs' 14 game winning streak by battling them to a 13-13 deadlock on a muddy field. Kerry Fairchild, junior halfback, scored both of Salina's touchdowns. This tie placed Salina High second in the CKL.

Last is the Manhattan game, when the Manhattan Indians brought the first defeat of the year to Salina High. The Mustangs played a great game and gave the Indians tough competition. The score at the final whistle was 20-0. This placed Salina High second in the CKL along with the Junction City Blue Jays.

SALINA'S TOM Lucas tries hard, fast, evasive action against the Abilene Cowboys and goes on to score a winning touchdown.

Skill, Perseverance Roll Mustang Cagers to Victory

Combining skill and perseverance, Coach Gene Stauffer's basketball squad fought to end the 1961-62 season with 16 wins and 5 losses. The Mustangs started the season with an impressive victory over Topeka High's high-rated Trojans; the score 64-57. After the first period, the game was never as close as the score indicated. Jeff Elias tossed in 23 counters and Ron Ford, 18.

After that the team got in high gear, winning a string of six games before the Wyandotte tournament in January. The Maroons erased Great Bend's early five point lead and went on to win 40-28. The schedule then pitted the Mustangs against Manhattan Indians and the 'Stangs won 48-44.

A 69-51 verdict over Clay Center and 71-64 win over Abilene bettered Salina's record. Back from Christmas vacation, the Roundballers turned a close first half against Emporia's Spartans into a last half rout; the Maroons won, 60-39. Next came a 16 point thriller with Junction City, which the Mustangs won 53-37.

The Mustangs captured second place at the Wyandotte Invitational Tournament posting a 52-48 victory over Parsons, but dropping to Wyandotte, 24-52. In the Parsons game, Mustang forward Don Payne pulled home the win, sinking a lay-up with six seconds left in the three minute overtime. Hampered by poor shooting, bad passing, and a rough Wyandotte defense, Stauffer's cagers did an about-face in the championship game the night after.

At Manhattan a week later, a hot shooting Indian five came from behind to edge the Mustangs 46-45. Jeff Elias steadied the flu-shaken Mustangs a week later with a 29 point effort, and led them to a 60-36 victory over the Clay Center Tigers at Clay.

BALL IN...and the Mustangs collect two more points.

Returning home the following Friday, the Cagers broke through a pressing Abilene defense to defeat the Cowboys 65-50. Next, after posting their 11th victory at the expense of the Emporia Spartans, 73-60, the Mustangs dropped an important CKL contest to McPherson, 45-39. The game was a closely contested one with neither team taking more than a four point margin until the final gun.

Overpowering the Hutchinson Salthawks 73-60, the Mustangs won an exciting game against the Ark Valley League leaders and a few days later kept their slim title hopes alive by beating Junction City, 65-49. But a week later, they came back cold from a halftime tie with McPherson, and lost a heart breaking game, 51-39.

On television for the first time in SHS history Salina combined a tough defense with sharp shooting and beat Wichita North, 45-27. In Regional tournament play, Salina defeated Junction City the first round, 47-42, but were defeated by Manhattan, 58-46 in the second.

Coach Stauffer, an alumnus of Kansas State University, was also a member of the 1950 Mustang squad, which won first place honors in the class AA basketball tournament. At K-State, he was a guard on the Wildcat squad.

THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN—Ron Magathan, Don Payne, Jeff Elias, Ron Ford, Jim Pankratz, Coach Stauffer, and Rusty Myers—provided the fans with an exciting season.

"GET THAT contact, get that lens! Go, Bullpups, go!" chant the McPherson cheerleaders as the Bullpups attempt to find a lost contact lens.

SURROUNDED BY Bluejays, Jeff Elias pulls down a rebound while Don Payne prepares to remove a Bluejay from Jeff's path.

Mustang Matmen Maneuver for 8-1 Season Record

Coaches, Alderson and Lundy, led team to CKL victory.

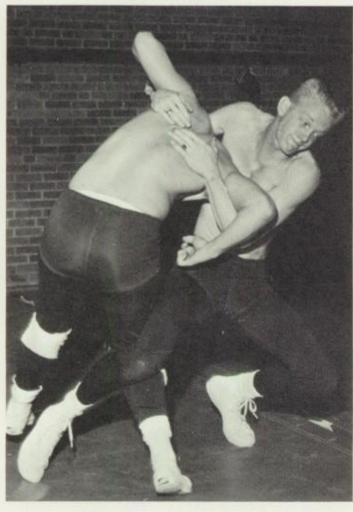

The wrestling team grappled its way to an 8-1 season record against some of the top teams in the state. The Mustang grapplers had seven returning lettermen—Stormy Johnson, Gary Salmans, Ernie Grospitch, Mick Denson, Marc Ryan, Gary Watson, and Bill Cox.

Coach William Lundy and his assistant, Charles Alderson, coached the Mustangs to three straight CKL titles. The Salina matmen have won the league title since it was started in 1960. Salina won seven firsts—three seconds, one third, and one fourth in the league meet this year.

Also the Mustang grapplers placed first in the District Wrestling Tournament at Kinsley for the second consecutive year. The Salina matmen captured three firsts, five seconds, and one third in the meet this year.

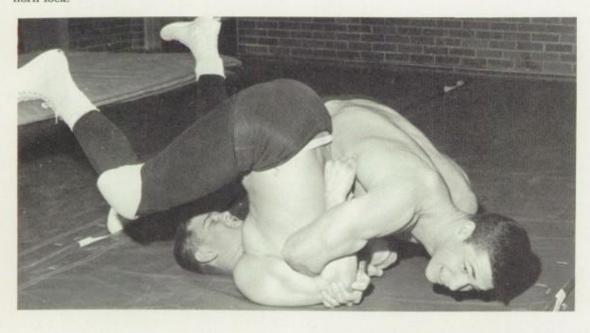

Stormy Johnson, Ernie Grospitch, Gary Watson, and Lynn Senkbeil each qualified for state and they were the Mustangs top wrestlers. Stormy and Ernie failed to lose a match until district tournament time. Ernie and Lynn placed third in the state tournament in Norton.

Salina finished first in CKL competition. They were followed by Emporia, Manhattan, Abilene, Clay Center, and Junction City.

For the first time in SHS history, the 1961 Cross Country crown was won by Salina High's fleet-footed Mustangs. Winning four of four meets, the squad's 34-35 win over Emporia October 24 upped their usual claim for second place to cinch toting home the title.

This conclusion was optimistically prophesied by Coach Gene Stauffer when 60 boys reported for the sport at the beginning of the season in September. In the season's opener, Salina downed Manhattan 19-40, low score winning. Next, the Mustangs walloped Clay Center by the near perfect score of 16-42, and a week later defeated Abilene 19-42. The Mustangs placed third in both the College Hill and Wichita East invitationals, second in the Regionals, and seventh in the State.

Standing out at all cross country meets was sophomore Gene McClain who nabbed first place at the regular meets and was sixth in the State. Other consistently good showings were made by seniors Ken Butler and Don Payne, junior Quintin Himmelwright, and sophomore John Tisdel.

Cold Weather Doesn't Keep Mustangs From Practice

"We got tired of waiting for warm weather," says Tennis Coach Carl Mibeck, so on March 5 the tennis team started regular practice for 1962 tournament play.

Golf Coach Emice Dyck this year welcomed the return of a championship caliber sextet composed of 1961 lettermen Dick King, Dodge Engleman, Andy Nusbaum, John Haase, Ian Campbell, and George Duffield.

The 1961 State two-man team champs were Andy and John; the CKL four man team winners were Dodge, Ian, George, and Dick; State High School Medalist was Andy Nusbaum. The Linksters, defending champions of the state and league, participated in five invitationals this year before playing in the league, regionals, and state.

'Stangs Hold State Record, Seek Another CKL Title

Mustang trackmen prepared for a busy schedule in competition for the fourth consecutive CKL title this year. The thinclads boasted several outstanding performers: Don Payne and Kerry Fairchild, 440 yard relay; Lynn Senkbeil, shotput; Gene McClain, Ken Butler, mile relay; Kerry Fairchild, hurdles; and Rick Toland, high jump. A dependable point-getter for the 'Stangs has been Don Payne, who holds the all time state record for the 440 yard dash—he breaks the tape in 49 seconds.

Track Coach Mike Davis, in charge of the Mustang runners, was aided in weight events by Assistant Charles Alderson, and in jumping events by Assistant Kaye Pearce.

Training this year began as early as February 19, and boys were in the gym daily, running and lifting weights so they would be ready for their first meet—the State Indoor—on March 31.

From one to three men entered each of the usual events: weight division—shot, discus, javelin; jumping division—high jump, broad jump, pole vault; running—100, 220, 440, 880 yard runs, mile, high hurdle, low hurdle; and relay—880, mile, and medley.

Acknowledgments

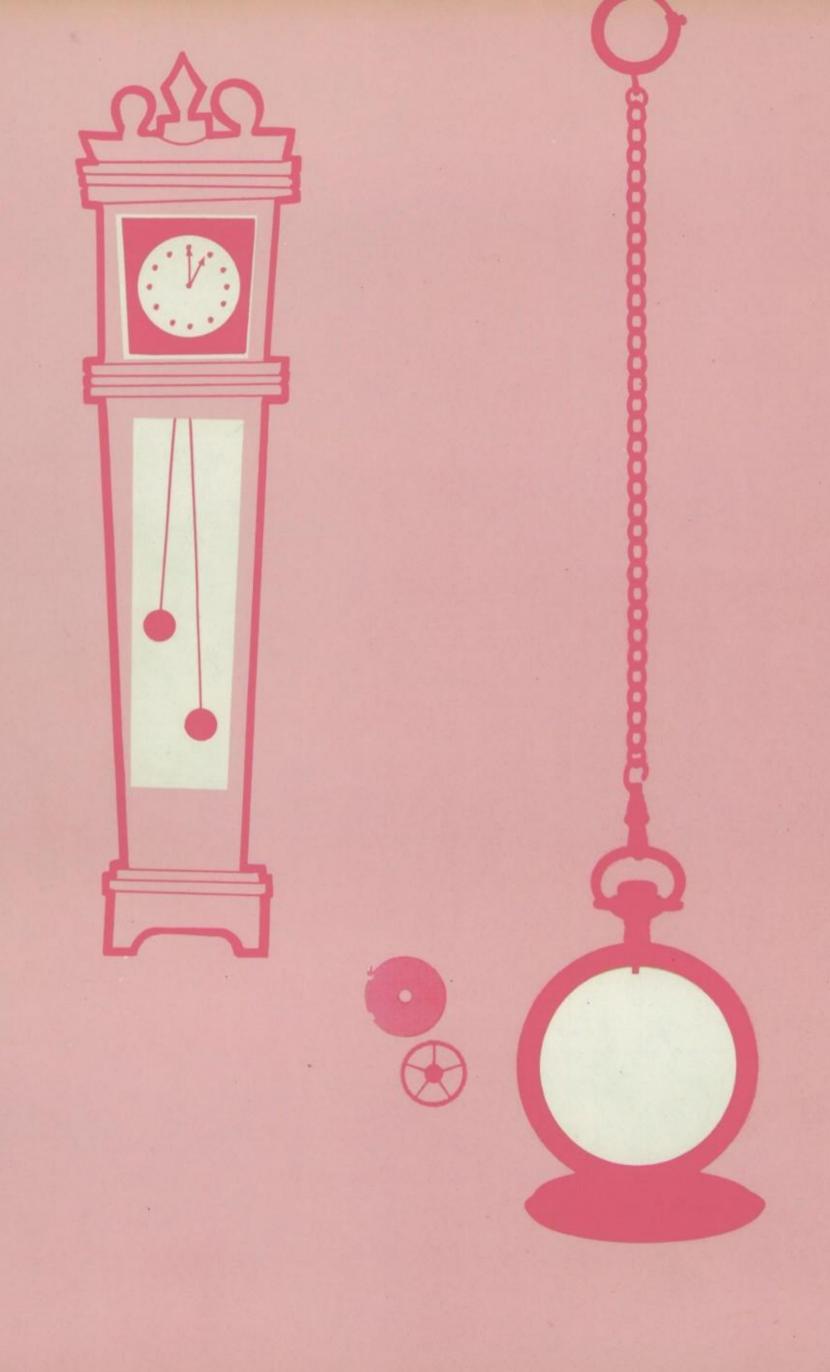

The Trail Staff of 1962 wishes to express appreciation for the assistance from the administration, faculty, and students that we received in producing this annual.

We are exceedingly grateful to Janet Chartier, Mary Pryor, Lee Byrd, Don Payne, and John Ballard for the extra hours which they devoted writing copy. We wish to convey gratitude to Rich Van Cleef, who did special photography. Special thanks goes to Mrs. Roberta Miller, our staff photographer, who made her services available on a twenty-four hour basis. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lillard, Homestead Building and Loan, Wilson and Company, and Burgess Cycle Shop contributed in special ways to produce excellent photographs. Greatest appreciation must be expressed for the excellent guidance of our advisor, Janice Graham, and for the superb supervision of our representative from Myer's and Company, Frank Wright.

For the thoughts expressed in the foreword which fit so well to our theme, we must give tribute to Henri Bergson, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Charles Dickens, and J. Mason.

Trail Records Year's History, Sets New Precedent

STAFFERS WISH they wouldn't have made the Trail so heavy when the time comes for distribution.

The arrival of the Trails brought faculty and student recognition to many months of work by the staff members. It was all—and more—than what they anticipated! The keynote of the traditionally annual yearbook was "set a new precedent—and make originality dominate the recorded history of the year 1961-62 at Salina High!" The Trails were received with excitement and praise—"the best in Salina High's history" was heard through the halls. This made the late hours, deadlines, and worries of the past winter seem worthwhile for the editor and staff.

OWEN E. HODGSON agrees it's a weighty TRAIL as Editor Shirley Schneider and Assistant Carolyn Marino present him with one of a few personalized copies.

EXCITEMENT BEGINS weeks before Prom as Ronny Rogers asks Mary Mattson to the social highlight of the year.

GLIDING THROUGH the dreamlike splendor of the lost cities of El Dorado was the "highlight" of the evening for Carol Goeble and Mike Chapman.

HAPPY JANET CHARTIER'S preparation begins days before the appointed time.

'Clockwise' Arrangement Of Pictures...

THE MORNING after, Alan Lange and Barbara Berg seem to wonder if Prom perhaps is merely the haunting fear of missing a fragment of reality which one knows in advance will be trivial, even meaningless.

THE DELIGHTED expressions of Deanna Cooper and Larry Franklin prove either the food or the company is certainly excellent.

THE EVENING begins for Barbara Brodine with the arrival of Tom Tucker.

...Tells True Story Of Prom Night

GUESTS PAM BELL and Dennis Pugh serve themselves at buffet style banquet.

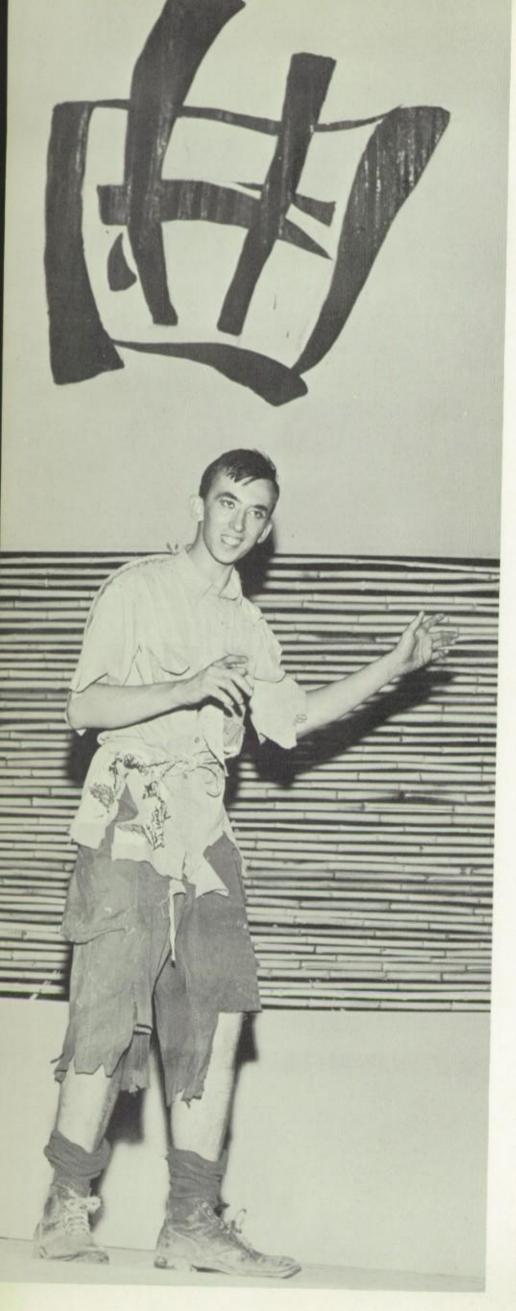

ANTICIPATION MOUNTS as Wally Kraft and Marsha Mankin leave for the traditional night of "freedom" behind locked doors.

EAGERLY KATHY URBANEK and David Hobson take their places for the senior alignment.

CLASS PRESIDENT Paul Froman and Sherry Felices lead class on their pre-dinner constitutional hike.

D-Club Goes Oriental-'Teahouse' Is Usual 'Hit'

Quaint customs and attitudes of the Far East were realistically depicted in the D-Club's springtime production of John Patrick's play, "Teahouse of the August Moon." "Teahouse," a hilarious yet deeply moving story of the American Army Occupation forces in Okinawa, is seen through the eyes of the ageless Sakini, Okinawan by whim of gods and interpreter by profession.

When lovable, lighthearted, and completely sympathetic Captain Fisby takes over command of Tobiki, Sakini's hometown, complications never end. Lotus Blossum, a geisha girl, is a gift to the captain from the village carpenter. All the villagers decide that the village can't have a geisha girl without a "cha ya", (a teahouse). Since Tobiki is a democracy, everyone votes to use government lumber, originally provided for building a school, to build their teahouse.

Under the laughter there is much to be learned from this comedy. To many, Sakini probably seems an illiterate Okinawan who unconsciously keeps everyone laughing, but to the more sensitive person and to those who have ever worked on a production of "Teahouse," Sakini is the voice of wisdom. Who can doubt it when they hear his lines-"Pain make man think; thought make man wise; wisdom make life endurable."

Cast included: Sakini, Alan Lange; Sergeant Gregovich, Klaus Goedecke; Colonel Purdy, Dick Pfanenstiel; Captain Fisby, Paul Froman; Lotus Blossom, Linda Reed; Captain McLean, Roger Weis; Old Woman, Susie Miller; Old Woman's Daughter, Jean Ann Riddle; the Daughter's Children, Tim Oniki and Scott Oniki; Lady Leah, goat; Ancient Man, Ed Gray; Mr. Hokaida, Bob Reichert; Mr. Sumata, Alan Shields; Mr. Sumata's Father, Dennis Van Fossen; Mr. Seike, Larry Franklin; Miss Higa Jiga, Susannah Rodenberger; Mr. Keora, Mike Godbey; Mr. Oshira, John Ballard.

Villagers, David Bell, Neil Forehand, Ted Haggart, Bill Ziegert; Ladies League for Democratic Action, Ninafaye Aldridge, Barbara Berg, Janet Chartier, Pam Flory, Marsha Mankin, Margie Steele.

SAKINI BY name, interpreter by profession, education by ancient dictionary, Ókinawan by whim of gods - tells a little story to demonstrate example of benevolent assimilation of democracy by Okinawa.

DRUNK GREGOVICH explains to Colonel Purdy, "I fell in a vat. Naturally, I had to open my mouth to yell for help."

LOVELY LOTUS BLOSSOM fan dances in honor of Captain Frisby's "hop-pee" birthday.

"CHILDREN NOT go without goat—mother not go without children—old lady not go without daughter and if old lady not go, Mayor of Tobiki be mad at you," rationalizes Sakini to persuade the Captain to let all go.

VILLAGERS REBUILT in record time of three minutes the teahouse and sweet-potato brandy stills at the request of the Congressional Committee.

LITTLE STORY now concluded. History of world unfinished. What was true at the beginning remains true. May August Moon bring gentle sleep.

Forty-five Seniors Initiated Into National Honor Society

Forty-five seniors from the top one-third of the Class of 1962 were nominated to the National Honor Society by the faculty in late springtime. Each candidate was judged on scholarship, leadership, service, and character. A "one" rating on each quality by a majority of the voting faculty is required before any student can be an NHS member.

Nominees chose their officers after being presented to the student body in a special assembly. Chosen for president was John Hedeen while Charles Turpen was selected to assist as vice-president. Pam Longhofer and Ron Magathan were appointed to the offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Twenty boys and twenty-five girls were awarded this honor in a formal initiation which parents and close friends were invited to attend.

Seniors Practice 'n Play On Annual Senior Day

A time of entertainment, practice, and freedom comprised Senior Day for the class of '62. One slowly awoke to the tune of "Follow That Dream" at the Fox theater; entertainment with Elvis and E. J. Dyck's offer to "take care of all parking tickets" initiated the day. Hopeful candidates for graduation awkwardly followed the instructions of Mr. Klotz and Mr. Simpson at Baccalaureate practice. "Left, left, left . . . listen for the drum" echoed in Seniors' ears. Later each rushed to his homeroom to try on what many found to be ill-fitting caps and gowns. The remainder of the day was free, and most found fun and relief in many different ways at Kanopolis Lake, while the unfortunate underclassmen and teachers "baked" in warm classrooms.

MICHELE INDUCES a chain reaction when she tilts Tray's tassel, and Van Cleef follows suit.

SHS Recognized by Track, Tennis, Golf Action

Thinclads Win Fourth Title

Although injuries handicapped the 1962 track squad, Head Coach Mike Davis guided his thin-clads to the fourth consecutive Central Kansas League title. Salina produced one of its better runners this season in Don Payne. Unfortunately, from midseason on Don was hampered with a pulled muscle which resulted in the loss of the State AA 440-yard dash title. A bright spot in the season was the improvement of Lynn Senkbiel who placed third at the state meet. Also, Gene McClain, sophomore miler, completed a most successful year by snaring third place at the State AA meet. "Overall we managed to have another fine season due to the desire and hard work of our boys," was the praise of Coach Davis on this year's squad.

Tennis Team 'Champs' Too

The 1962 tennis squad, led by senior letterman Sam Dreher, captured its fourth straight Central Kansas League championship and at the same time, posted a fine season record. In dual matches the Mustangs downed Hutchinson, Wichita Kapaun, Junction City, and Ark City. Salina also placed second at the Manhattan Invitational and third at the Hutch tournament. On May 11-12, the Salina net men snared third place in a strong field of regional contenders.

"Our team didn't have any individual standout player, but it was one of the best rounded squads I have coached in a long time," was the comment of head skipper Carl Mibeck on the status of this year's team. Losing only one of his four returning lettermen from this year's team, Coach Mibeck can expect another fine season in 1963.

Linksters Win State

Winning the State AA tournament for the second consecutive year, the Mustang golfers completed another outstanding season. Among the honors the Salina golfers captured are first place in the CKL and first at the Regionals. Coach Emice Dyck also watched the linksters snare first place honors in the following season invitationals: Great Bend, Salina, and Manhattan.

Among the six returning lettermen of last year's squad Dodge Engleman, Dick King, and Ian Campbell were the three seniors who made up part of the six-man team. Andy Nusbaum and John Hasse will return next year to be the mainstays of the team.

"WATCH" - FUL ADMIRERS, Linda Halsted and Virginia Rankin chuckle with Beverly Swarrington at graduation exercises.

LUCKY GUM-BALL graduate joins the ranks of the Class of '62 and is initiated by Larry Griffis and Robert Summers.

LEE BYRD seems to mirror the thought that "twelve years of preparation is too long a time to see in one parchment."

IN ONE picture are encaptured the emotions and personalities of the Class of 1962 whose complete presence at an individual time and place will never be repeated.

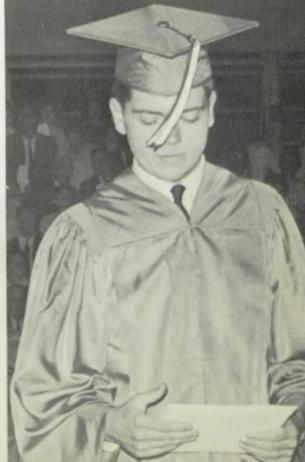

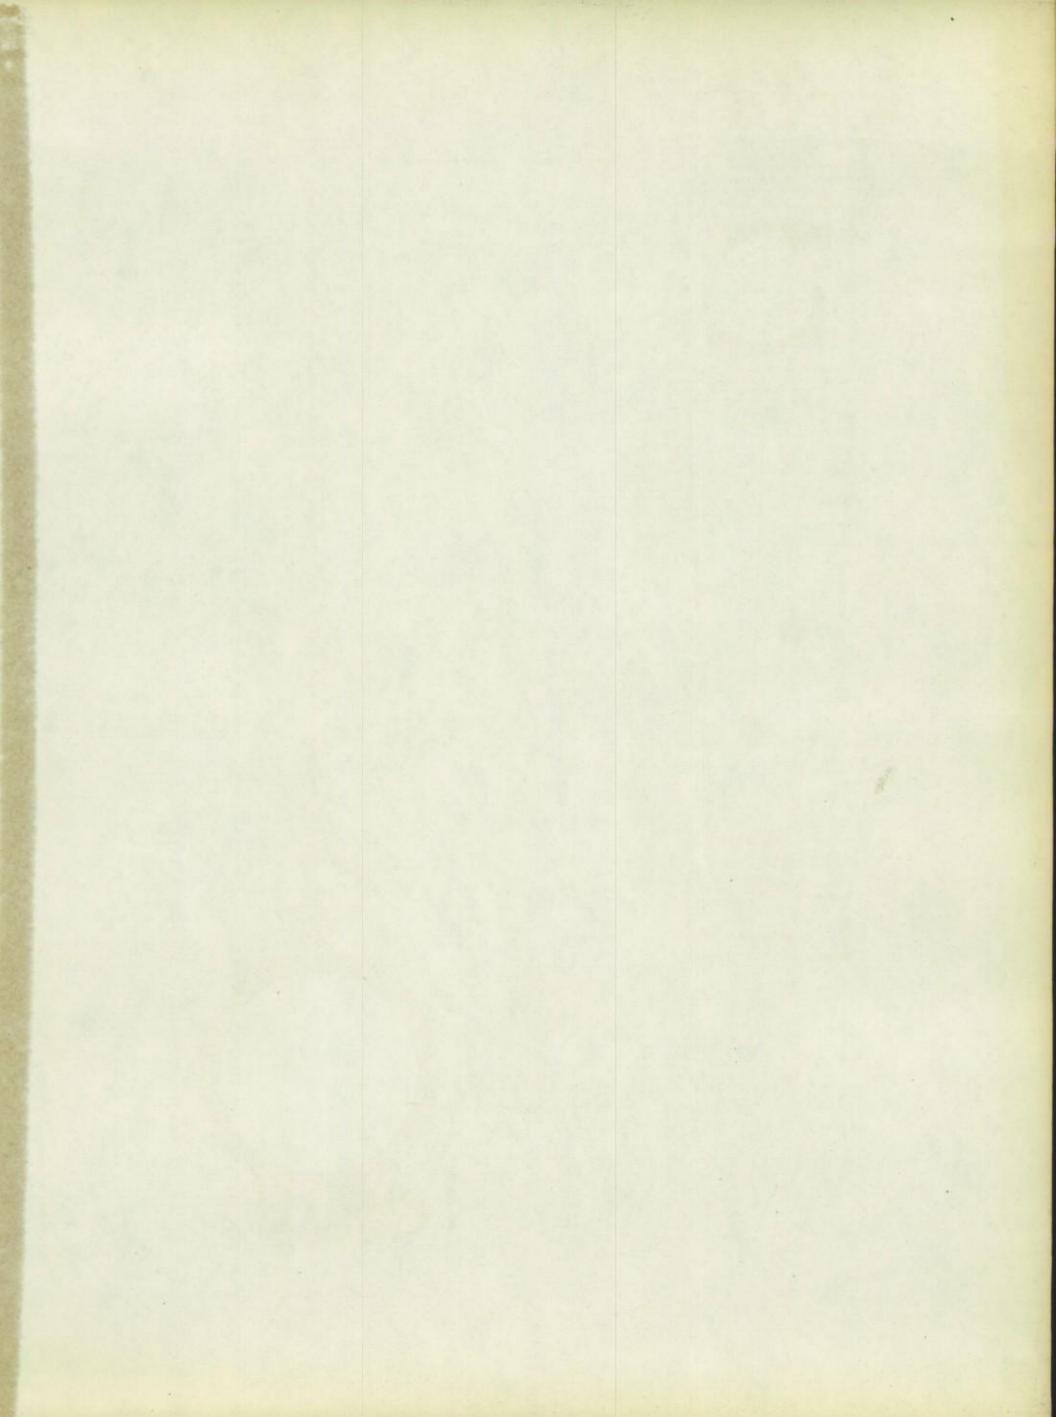

Surface Urges Seniors To Be Nonconformists

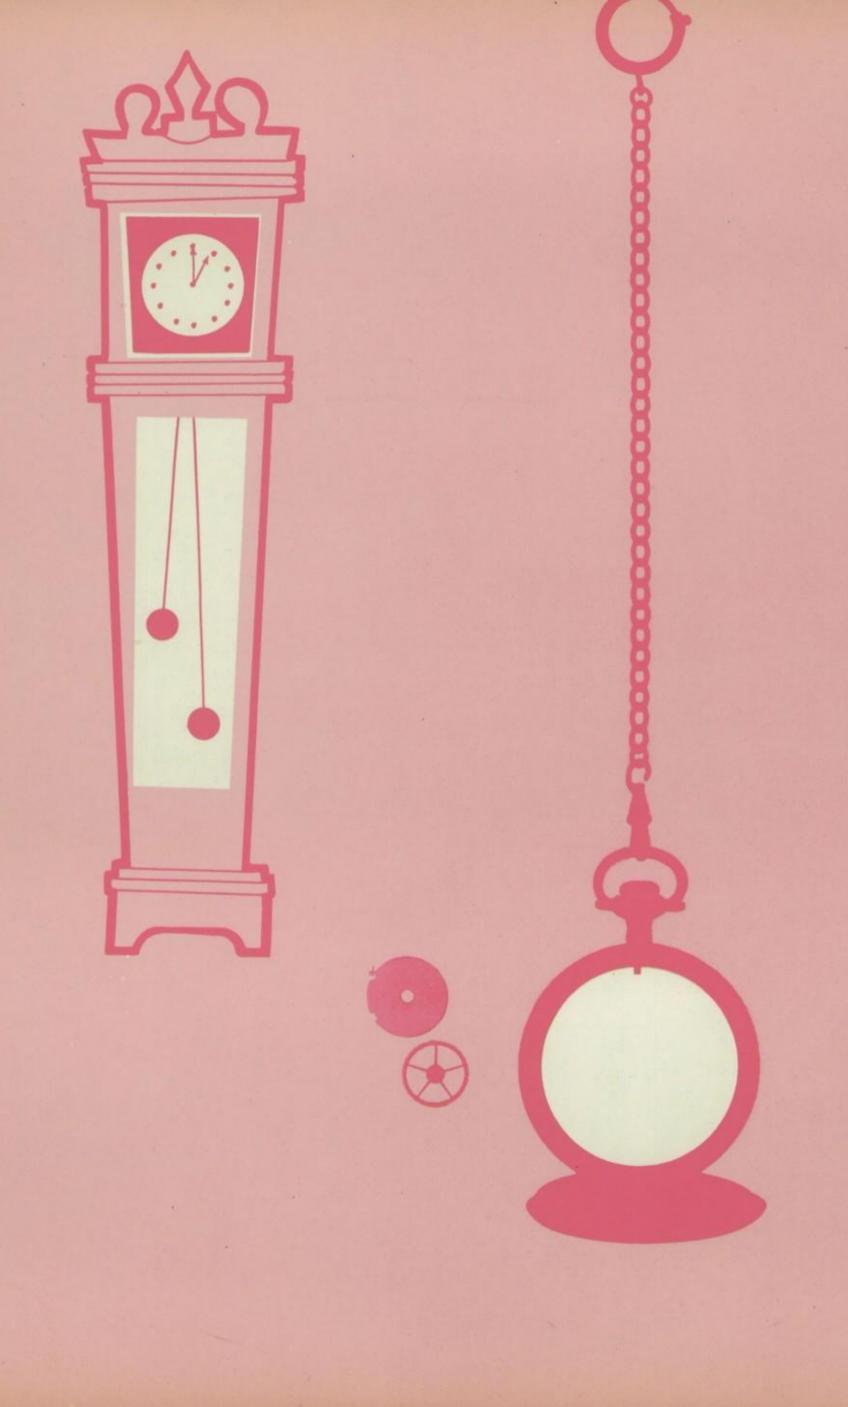

Dr. James R. Surface told 404 graduates at Commencement Tuesday, May 29, they were "going to see and experience a lot of trouble in the world, and shouldn't try to duck it." Dr. Surface, an SHS graduate and now vice-chancellor of the University of Kansas, declared, "We can assure you that this will not be your last nor your most difficult challenge. The world faces many problems. But the very attributes which make our world hazardous make it interesting.

"Ulysses, the hero, is in all of us. Like Ulysses, it seems man advances in the face of trouble. Perhaps trouble is bad, but it seems to bring out the good qualities of man. The abilities of man are best fulfilled by being an individual in a challenging society. Man's eternal dilemma is how to be true to self as an individual and to society as a member. Be your own man. Trust yourself and rely on only yourself. 'Who would be a man, must be a nonconformist.'"

Dr. Surface was introduced by Superintendent of Schools W. M. Ostenberg. Principal Owen Hodgson presented the class to Ben A. Sellers, president of the Board of Education, who awarded the diplomas. The Rev. Phillip R. Anderson gave the invocation and W. W. Waring gave the benediction. Music was by the Salina High band and chorus under the directions of Dr. Olin Parker and Paul Ryberg.
